Residents in Wisconsin Adult Correctional Facilities on June 30, 1983 With Five-Year Trends for 1979-1983

Wisconsin's correctional facilities for adults housed a total of 4,706 persons (4,499 males and 207 females) on June 30, 1983; an increase of 4.9 percent over June 30, 1982, when 4,487 persons (4,311 males and 176 females) were in residence. These figures include offenders in residence at the Wisconsin Resource Center operated by the Division of Care and Treatment Facilities as well as males housed under contract arrangements in the Milwaukee County House of Corrections, other Wisconsin county jails, federal facilities, and correctional institutions operated by the state of Minnesota.

Information about the admission status (new adult sentence, parole violator, mandatory release violator, etc.) and race and ethnicity of all residents on June 30, 1983, can be found in Tables 1-2. A variety of descriptive data relating to offense, length of sentence, place of birth, etc., can be found in Tables 3-10. A total of 76 persons have been excluded from Tables 3-10. These include 52 males and 6 females temporarily held pending completion of probation, parole, or mandatory release revocation hearings, 1 male voluntary return from mandatory release, and 17 males serving alternative to revocation contracts. Tables A and B contain five-year trend data for males and females in residence on June 30, 1979-1983.

The adult male resident population on June 30, which has been increasing steadily since 1980, increased 4.4 percent (from 4,311 to 4,499) between 1982 and 1983. This is the smallest increase reported during the five-year period with the largest being the 11.4 percent rise (from 3,871 to 4,311) between June 30, 1981, and June 30, 1982. The majority (83.0 percent) of the residents on June 30, 1983, were reported to be new admissions. This category includes offenders who received new adult sentences from the court, probation violators with or without new sentences, and juvenile aftercare and youthful offender violators who received new adult sentences. The proportion of residents reported as being non-white, which has been decreasing since 1981, reached a five-year low of 40.9 percent in 1983. The median age rose to a five year high of 26.6 years in 1983. Commitments from Milwaukee County continued to decrease and reached a low of 40.8 percent in 1983.

Slightly less than two-fifths (38.5 percent) of the males in residence on June 30, 1983 were classified as offenders who had been involved in crimes that were not classified as assaultive, drug, or sex offenses; a slight decrease from the four-year high of 39.2 percent recorded in 1982. The proportion of males serving sentences for drug offenses only remained stable at 3.7 percent while, as in the previous three years, less than one percent of the residents were reported as being convicted only of sex offenses. There has been a slow but steady decrease in the proportion of males classified as having been convicted of only assaultive offenses from a high of 44.0 percent of the resident population in 1980 to a low of 33.9 percent on June 30, 1983. However, during the same time period, the proportion of males considered to be both assualtive and sex offenders rose from 12.4 percent (1980) to almost one-fifth (19.9 percent) in 1983.

The number of females in residence, which has been increasing steadily since the five-year low of 132 on June 30, 1980, reached 207 (an increase of 56.8 percent over 1980 levels) on June 30, 1983. The proportion of residents reported as being non-white increased slightly to 48.3 percent from the five-year low of 47.1 percent recorded in 1982. The median age for females in residence on June 30, 1983 was 28.5 years, a high for the five-year period and an increase of almost a full year over the 27.6 year median reported in 1982.

The proportion of residents (49 percent) classified as having committed crimes not classified as assaultive, drug, or sex offenses has remained constant for the past two years. Females considered to be drug offenders only accounted for 8.0 percent of the population on June 30, 1983, slightly down from the 8.2 percent recorded in 1982. Slightly more than one-third (34.8 percent) of those residents on June 30, 1983 were classified as assaultive offenders only, a low for the four-year period. The proportion of females considered to be both assaultive and sex offenders rose from 5.3 percent in 1982 to 6.0 percent in 1983.

FISCAL YEAR SUMMARY REPORT OF POPULATION MOVEMENT
1983

Summary information about the movement and volume of offenders for whom Wisconsin's Division of Corrections had supervisory responsibility during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1983, is presented in this publication. Table 1 provides data about movements into and out of and average daily populations for correctional facilities for adult offenders. Wisconsin offenders resident under contract in Minnesota correctional institutions, the Milwaukee County House of Corrections, federal facilities, and other Wisconsin county jails are also included in this table. Juvenile institution population data and youth aids information can be found in Tables 2 and 2-A while information about probation and parole services population movement and absconders from probation and parole supervision appears in Tables 3 and 4.

On June 30, 1983, a total of 29,794 persons were under Division of Corrections supervision, an increase of 7.0 percent over July 1, 1982, when the caseload stood at 27,837 persons. The population confined in facilities for adult offenders rose 4.9 percent from 4,487 on July 1, 1982 to 4,706 on June 30, 1983. Female offenders, who made up 3.9 percent of the population in adult facilities at the start of the fiscal year accounted for 4.4 percent of the population on June 30, 1983. Four hundred and eighty-nine juveniles (452 males and 37 females) were confined in juvenile institutions on June 30, 1983; an increase of 6.5 percent over the 459 (429 males and 30 females) in residence on July 1, 1982. The preceding figures do not include institutionalized adults or juveniles reported as absent in the footnotes for Tables 1 and 2. The number of persons supervised in the community, i.e., those on probation, parole, juvenile aftercare, etc., rose from 20,926 on July 1, 1982 to 22,267, an increase of 6.4 percent, at the end of the fiscal year.

1981	27,095	+ 1.7
1982	28,473	+ 5.0
1983	29,939	+ 5.1

Note: Includes community supervision cases supervised in other states, cases from other states supervised in Wisconsin, Wisconsin offenders resident in other facilities under contract agreements, absconders from probation and parole, and residents in medical hospitals.

During fiscal year 1983 the average daily population of persons under Division of Corrections supervision reached a five-year high of 29,939 cases; a 16.2 percent increase over the 25,754 cases reported in fiscal year 1979. This is the second year in a row during which the average daily population increased at least 5 percent and the largest (5.1 percent) yearly increase during the past five years.

1982	4,683	+ 8.9
1983	5,123	+ 9.4

The population confined in correctional institutions, which remained stable during 1979 and 1980, began to rise during fiscal year 1981 and reached a five-year high of 5,123 during fiscal year 1983. This is an increase of 26 percent over the five-year low of 4,065 recorded in 1979. These figures include offenders resident in adult and juvenile facilities, youthful offenders, and Wisconsin cases resident under contract in Minnesota correctional institutions, the Milwaukee County House of Corrections, other Wisconsin county jails, and federal facilities.

/a Total includes persons committed as youthful offenders. Youthful offender legislation, which became operative on July 1, 1976, was repealed on July 1, 1978.

/b Sex of 7 residents in hospitals was not reported but cases are included in this publication as males.

Data on correctional institution average daily populations by institution and sex of resident for the fiscal years 1979-1983 is presented in Table C. During fiscal year 1979, the average daily population for institutionalized adults (including Bureau of Community Corrections residential centers) was 3,432 persons. This number has increased steadily during the past five years, reaching a high of 4,633 persons in fiscal year 1983, an increase of 35 percent over 1979 levels. Juvenile institution populations, which dropped from a five-year high of 633 in 1979 to a low of 454 in 1982, increased slightly to 490 (+7.9 over 1982 levels) in fiscal year 1983. The decreases noted during the period 1979-1982 are attributable primarily to the revision of Wisconsin's Children's Code which became effective in November, 1978. Under provisions of the Code, a juvenile may be placed in Division of Corrections custody only if he or she is adjudged delinquent because of an act punishable by a sentence of six months or more if committed by an adult and only if found to be a danger to the public and in need of restrictive custodial treatment.

RESIDENTS IN WISCONSIN ADULT CORRECTIONAL FACILITIES ON DECEMBER 31, 1983 WITH FIVE-YEAR TRENDS FOR 1979-1983

DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH AND SOCIAL SERVICES
DIVISION OF CORRECTIONS
OFFICE OF INFORMATION MANAGEMENT & OPERATIONS
MADISON, WISCONSIN 53707

STATISTICAL BULLETIN C-57 JULY 1984

Residents in Wisconsin Adult Correctional Facilities on December 31, 1983 With Five-Year Trends for 1979-1983

Four thousand seven hundred persons, 4,497 males and 203 females, were in residence in Wisconsin's correctional facilities for adults on December 31, 1983; a slight increase (1.4 percent) over December 31, 1982 when 4,635 persons; 4,451 males and 184 females, were reported to be in residence. These figures include males housed, under contract arrangements, in the Milwaukee County House of Corrections, other Wisconsin county jails, federal correctional facilities, and correctional institution operated by the state of Minnesota. Offenders resident in the Wisconsin Resource Center, operated by the Division of Care and Treatment Facilities, are also included in this report.

Information about admission status (new adult sentence, mandatory release violator, etc.) can be found in Table 1. Fifty-one males and 2 females (1.1 percent of the resident population) were institutionalized awaiting completion of probation, parole, or mandatory release revocation hearings while 15 male residents were serving contracts as an alternative to revocation, and one male was reported as being a voluntary return to the institution from mandatory release supervision. These 69 persons, 67 males and 2 females, have been excluded from descriptive information (race and ethnicity, offense, length of sentence, etc.) which appears in Tables 2 through 15. Five-year trend data for the period 1979-1983 can be found in Tables A and B while Figures 1 and 2 provide a geographical illustration of the population by county and region of commitment.

The adult male resident population on December 31, which has been increasing steadily since 1980, increased 1.0 percent between 1982 and 1983. This is the smallest increase reported during the five-year period with the largest being the 12.0 percent rise (from 3,655 to 4,093) between December 31, 1980 and December 31, 1981. It should be noted that 6.2 percent (279) men in residence were serving their Wisconsin sentences under contract in facilities not operated by the Division of Correcitons. Eight out of 10 (81.9 percent) of the residents on December 31, 1983 had entered the institution as some type of new admission.

The median age recorded for males in residence on December 31, 1983 was 26.7 years; the median length of sentence 6.0 years. The proportion of males committed from Milwaukee County declined to a five-year low of 40.2 percent. Figure 1 indicates that almost three-fourths (73.3 percent) of the males in residence were committed from the Milwaukee, Southeastern, or Southern regions; i.e., the 19 counties making up the lower one-third of Wisconsin. In contrast, the Northern and Western Regions, which contain 36 of the state's 72 counties, were responsible for the commitment of only 14.4 percent of the males in residence on December 31, 1983.

The proportion of men in residence who were classified as being something other than assaultive, sex, or drug offenders increased slightly to a five-year high of 40.2 percent while those classified as being solely sex offenders continued to comprise less than one percent of the population. Males considered to be drug offenders made up 5.0 percent of the population, a high for the five-year period. The proportion of males classified as solely assaultive offenders, which reached a five-year low of 33.6 percent in 1982 rose to almost two-fifths (39.5 percent) in 1983. Males considered to be assaultive and sex offenders made up slightly more than one-tenth (13.7 percent) of the population on December 31, 1983; a decrease from the five-year high of 20.3 percent recorded in 1982.

Females* Resident in Adult Facilities by Region and County of Commitment
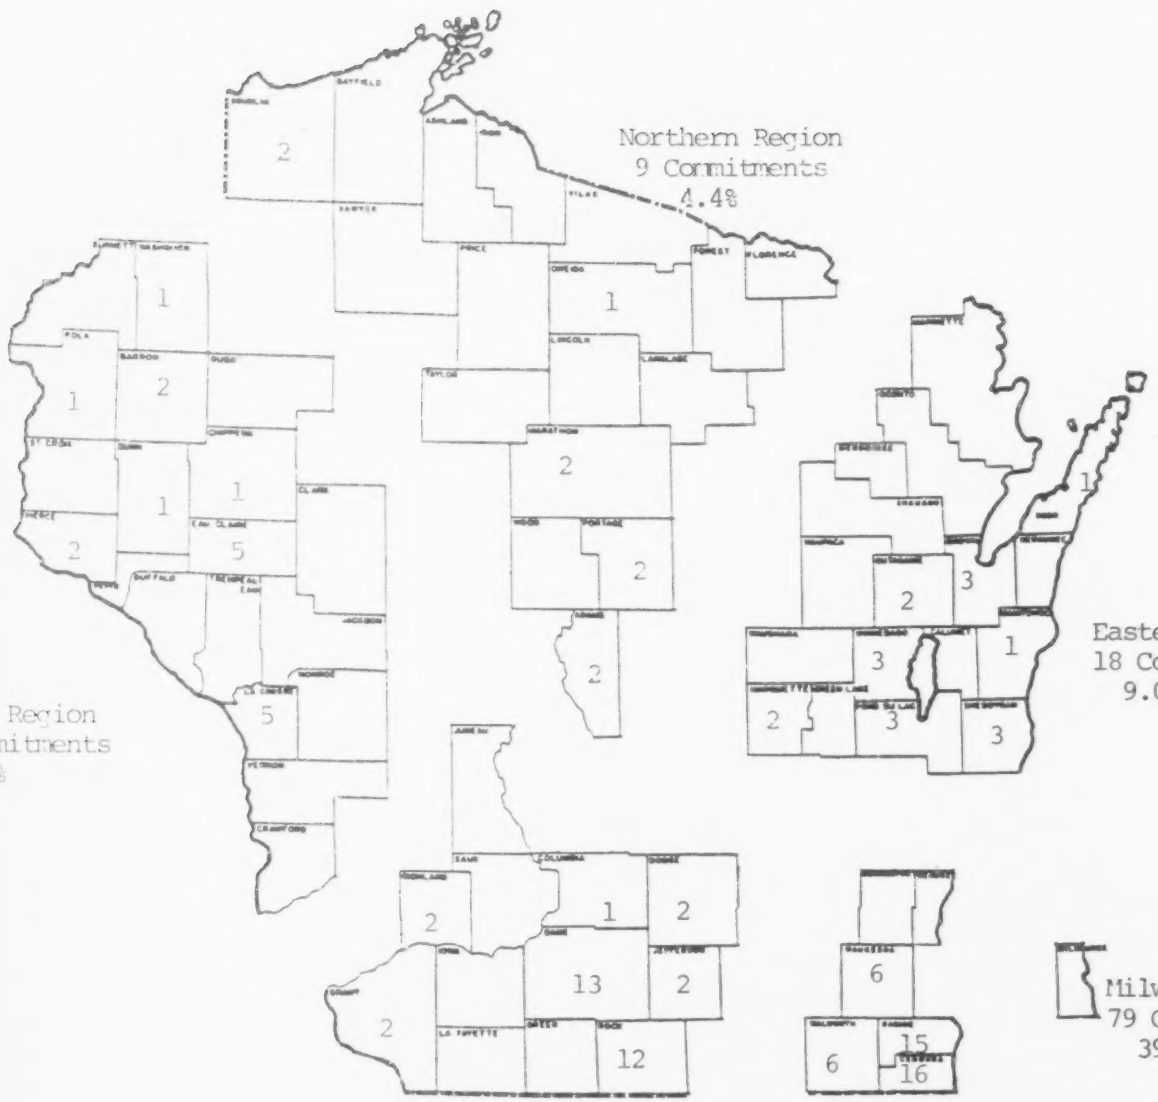
December 31, 1983



* N=201 females. Two females temporarily held pending revocation hearing have been excluded.

The number of females in residence reached a five-year high of 203 on December 31, 1983; an increase of 52.6 percent over the low of 133 recorded on December 31, 1980. Five counties, Milwaukee, Kenosha, Racine, Dane, and Rock committed slightly more than two-thirds (67.2 percent) of all women in residence. See Figure 2 for further details on the geographical distribution of female commitments.

Slightly more than one-half (51.2 percent) of the females in residence on December 31, 1983 were considered not to be assaultive, sex, drug offenders; a high for the five-year period.

Four out of ten (40.3 percent) female residents were classified as being solely assaultive offenders. The proportion of those classified as both assaultive and sex offenders continued to decline from a high of 6.0 percent in 1980 to 2.0 percent on December 31, 1983; a figure approaching the five-year low of 1.5 percent recorded in 1979. The median age for female residents increased to 28.4 years in 1983; a high for the five-year period. The median length of sentence for those in residence at the end of 1983 was 4.0 years.
